Nature Is Changing Her Garb to Meet the Needs of Warmer Days! Are You?

Green grass growing, robins returning, April rains cheering—all this suggests that Nature is preparing for a lighter, warmer, prettier season.

Why not follow Nature? Don't lighter and more comfortable garments. And that doesn't necessarily mean NEW garments.

Take Dressers into your confidence and say just what you want done with your old clothes, and they will do it in a splendidly equipped $57,000 plant. They will clean, repair, dye or put NEW STYLED LINES into your last year's garments, and they will do it at a surprising speed. They will clean and re-block straw hats; clean gloves; clean waists; and, what is equally important, they will disinfect and clean your pillows, feathers, blankets, comforts and rugs that you are using in your home.

Follow Nature. Clad yourself in CLEANED garments. It doesn't cost much. It's only proper.

Health in Old Age

How much better it is to be hale and hearty at 80 years of age than it is to acquire all the wealth in the world and be an old woman or man at 60. Sensible thinking people only need a suggestion or warning to realize the importance of not allowing the health to fail and the vitality to become low, as it is a long, tedious job to rebuild the constitution up to its youthful standard after disease or over-work has sapped the strength and wasted tissues. In the case of premature physical decline Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has proved of great value to many old people who have given it a fair trial. When taken as directed, Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey assists in keeping healthy the essential functions of digestion because it induces activity in the flow of gastric juices so the food eaten will digest naturally. This action upon the digestive process is of great importance as it brings out all the nutriment necessary for proper sustenance. Upon entering into the blood stream, it is carried to one part and another of the body and serves to put the various organs into action, and causes them to function as they would not otherwise do. Because Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey plays such an important part in the work of bodily nutrition, and likewise in fortifying the system against morbid disease, it has become famous as a "medicine for all mankind." It makes the old feel young and keeps the young strong and vigorous. Folks who know from experience that this excellent tonic and stimulant may be depended upon, always "Get Duffy's and Keep Well."—Advertisement.

RESIDENT HERE SIXTY YEARS

C. H. Dougherty Arrives in Omaha on a Steamboat in April, 1855.

KNOWS ALL THE OLD-TIMERS

C. H. Dougherty of 823 Forest avenue will observe sixtieth anniversary of his arrival in Omaha on next Thursday, April 15.—He does not claim to be able to remember Omaha sixty years ago, because when he arrived on April 15, 1855, he was only 3 years of age and was with his mother and father, who journeyed from Pittsburgh, Pa., to follow the star of empire on its westward course.

However, he can look back more than half a century and can recall himself as a mere boy driving a team of oxen along Farnam street, coming from or going to the Dougherty farm west of the city a few miles. Farnam street was a veritable cowpath in those days and on muddy days it was a tedious drive.

Saw Village Grov. Mr. Dougherty is glad he came to Omaha at an early age. He has seen the community grow from a village to a metropolitan city. He has seen the introduction of all of the modern inventions and conveniences which today enter into the complex social fabric of an American city.

His parents—Mr. and Mrs. John Dougherty—arrived here on a steamboat, which was a popular form of travel in those days. Their first abode was at Ninth and Jackson streets. C. H. Dougherty remembers that his first school was the old state building at Ninth and Douglas streets and some of his schoolmates were Fred H. Davis, Patsy Garvey and Bill Diamond. His parents lived on the farm for a period of years and when C. H. Dougherty attained his majority he took charge of the Carlton house at Tenth and Leavenworth streets. He recalls that Hugh Murphy was one of the boarders at the Carlton.

Woodard a Teacher. While on the farm he attended the district school which was located in what is now known as McCardio precinct. John Rush and J. L. Woodard, present assistant postmaster, taught in this school.

Mr. Dougherty feels that Omaha is the one dear spot in the world for him. He has traveled around at times, but he declares he has not found any other place which he could adopt and feel contented.

Andrew Murphy is a brother-in-law of Mr. Dougherty. This pioneer is the father of Mrs. Leo A. Hoffman and Miss Josephine Dougherty, both prominent in local musical circles. John F. Dougherty of the city is a son.

Mr. Dougherty is a member of the Douglas County Association of Nebraska Pioneers and he enjoys meeting the old-timers at their rooms in the court house building from time to time.

Woman's Club Will Elect Delegates at Monday Session

Election of officers and delegates to the second district meeting which will be held at Benson April 20, is the principal item for Monday's meeting of the Omaha Woman's club. All present officers are eligible for re-election, as it is predicted they will be, with the exception of Mrs. Edward Johnson, chairman of the house and home committee.

Mrs. Leslie Ayres will sing two selections, "Kisses After Rain" and "Bonny Swedish Melody," at the election.

Mrs. N. H. Nelson, president of the club, announces the following women who will act as tellers, with Mrs. Charles H. Aull as chairman:

Mrs. Lulu E. Heald, thirty-second and Ames avenue, has asked the district court for a restraining order forbidding the Ames Avenue Merchants' base ball team from holding games at its park nearby. Samuel S. Moore, manager of the team, is defendant in her suit.

That foul balls frequently are knocked into her yard endangering her two children and herself, is one reason given by her why the order should be issued.

She alleges that the gathering of crowds every Saturday and Sunday in the vicinity with attendant noise and confusion constitutes a nuisance.

GOLD TRIMMED GAVEL FOR NEW BENSON MAYOR

The newly elected city officials of Benson took their oaths of office Friday night and immediately began to transact business. Immediately after taking his seat Mayor C. L. Mather was presented with a gorgeous bouquet of American Beauty roses and an ebony gavel, trimmed with gold, the gift of the Woodmen of the World lodge of Benson. Attorney Haffke made the presentation speech.

The city clerk was instructed to advertise the city hall bonds of $25,000, which carried by a large majority at the recent election, for sale.

Benson now has an entire republican set of officers. They are: Colonel C. L. Mather, mayor; Dan Westergard, clerk; Gus Wulff, treasurer; E. K. Bramble, engineer; Ed Benson and Andrew McCormick, councilmen. First ward; Claude Glantz and James Bailey, councilmen. Second ward.

Colorado Solons Finish Their Work

DENVER, April 10.—The Colorado general assembly scheduled to adjourn sine die at midnight, had disposed of practically all important administration measures when it began its final session today. The chief laws enacted are:

Statutory provisions to enforce the state-wide prohibition constitutional amendment adopted by the voters last November.

Creation of an industrial commission, with power to adjust industrial disputes and to administer workmen's compensation. Authorization of mutual insurance to supplement the compensation law.

A law limiting the sale of habit-forming drugs similar to the new federal anti-drug law.

Prohibiting the issuance of a divorce decree until six months after the divorce is granted.

Creating a legislative investigation committee, with unlimited powers and appropriating $5,000 for its use.

HOME TRADE EXCURSION IN THE NEAR FUTURE

Another home trade extension excursion around Omaha to inspect the various manufacturing plants of the city, is again planned by the Manufacturers' association. The trade extension committee of the organization at its last meeting decided upon this, but left the date to be fixed later among with other detailed arrangements. Chairman R. A. Leussler of the committee will probably make more definite announcements during the coming week.

Oldest Nebraska Publisher Will Be at State Meeting

Freemont can no longer claim the honor of having the oldest newspaper man in the state in the person of Postmaster Nathaniel Smalls of that place, who ran a newspaper in the later '60s. Dr. Frederick Renner, now of Omaha, published the Deutsche Zeitung at Nebraska City, beginning April 4, 1861. He is 85 years old now. He hopes to attend the convention of the Nebraska Press association in Omaha, April 19 to 21.

Dr. Renner came to Nebraska in 1856. He founded the newspaper at Nebraska City for the double purpose of securing European immigration for Nebraska and to uphold unionism and republicanism during the war.

Believing that Nebraska would soon be a state, Dr. Renner made up the cut containing the title of his paper in two sections. As soon as the commonwealth should become a state he intended to lift the word "Deutsche" and insert the word "Nebraska." He had to wait a number of years, however, and when the territory was finally admitted to statehood he did change the name to "Staats Zeitung" and started a branch shop, publishing the paper both in Lincoln and in Nebraska City.

BIG SHRINER RECEPTION HERE WEDNESDAY EVENING

Omaha Shriners are preparing for a monster reception, dinner and smoker at the Hotel Fontenelle Wednesday night. Besides the members of Tanager temple, it is expected that there will be a large number of Shriners from out in the state and from over in Iowa. At the function Fred R. # The "Down Town Club"

Said a banker: "Many times of a forenoon do I try to reach a business man in his office, and fail. How often, however, do I find him and others at the lunch hour at the Fontenelle. The advantage that one enjoys additional to a good meal, in finding here the people you want to meet, is a convenience not to be underrated.

That's it—Saves time—Promotes friendly intercourse with the very men you might otherwise seldom see. This hotel is a rendezvous of the business man, the man of affairs and the man about town. It may well be styled "The Down Town Club." If you fail to find the man you want in the Lobby or Grille Room—try the Ladies' Restaurant for today he may be dining with his wife—for she likes to come as well as he—this is not a hotel for men alone.

It's more than an even chance that he's a stockholder and partner in this enterprise for the upbuilding of the city. He supplied the need his city most felt and most likely he is lending his support toward its success. "That's why" it's Headquarters for Everything and Everybody Worth While."

Sunday Night "Dinner de Luxe" as usual. Bring your family, your wife or your sweetheart and learn if you don't already know the growing popularity of these Sunday night dinner concerts. Music from seven to ten. Phone or tell your reservation to M. Chas. Mayard and your wishes are in safe hands. Dinner from six to nine. Service de luxe at one fifty each person.
